Lilienthal Reports Weapons Making

Uranium and Plutonium Are Sources of Power, He Declares

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 3 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, disclosed today the United States now is producing new atomic weapons from both uranium and plutonium.

"Both of these products are used for atomic weapons in current production and under design at commission laboratories," Lilienthal said.

He did not explain whether the new weapons are bombs, such as were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, or represent a new military application of atomic power. Such details are classified as "secret."

In a speech prepared for the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Lilienthal said the weapons are being assembled at the isolated Los Alamos, N. M., laboratories where the first bomb was produced.

Yesterday the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed a new proving grounds for atomic weapons is being created at remote Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific.

Lilienthal's speech came on the fifth anniversary of the successful conclusion of experiments demonstrating that the energies within the nucleus of the uranium atom

His Timing Wrong

Sergeant Will Be Careful When He Passes Out Cigars Next Time

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2 (AP)—First Sgt. Lure Crain, a father for the first time, passed out cigars to the newly recruited members of Headquarters Company, 123rd Infantry, Illinois National Guard at the state armory last night.

There were clouds of smoke as the guardsmen puffed their cigars before the unit was presented for inspection. A few minutes later the group started the close order drill. Three of the recruits slumped to the floor.

"I guess I overdid it," Crain said, explaining the cigars he had given to the recruits were "a bit of the strong side."

"Next time I'll dish 'em out later—after the drill," Crain added.

Total Will Be About $164,000; State's Share of '47 Is to Be $91,000

General health services conducted through the Ulster County Health Department for the year 1947 will total approximately $132,000, of which the state aid portion will be $91,000, leaving the county's share of public health work $41,000. The department expects to end the year with an approximate $12,000 balance of which the county's share will be $6,000.

The estimated cost of general health services in the county in 1948 is $164,000, of which the state's share will be $107,000, leaving $57,000 to be raised on the taxable property of the county, less the anticipated $6,000 balance, or a net of $51,000 to be levied.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors Monday evening a resolution was offered calling for the raising by taxation of $51,000 for general health purposes. That resolution went over.

The state aid reimbursement is based on 75 per cent of the first $100,000 of cost and 50 per cent of the remainder.

In addition to the general health program the cost of operating the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, which is also under the jurisdiction of the County Health Department, is estimated to be $132,904 for 1948. The state aid is expected to be between $48,000 and $50,000, depending on the total amount of patient days, and therefore it will be necessary for the county to appropriate between $82,900 and $84,900 to carry on the tuberculosis work in the county. The total cost of operation including state aid was $114,476.50.

The total number of patient days utilized from November 1, 1946 to October 31, 1947 was 19,001 for an average daily per capita cost of $5.81. In the previous year the cost per day was $4.34. Much of the increased cost has been due to increased cost of food and services.

Annual reports of Dr. George James, Commissioner of Health, and Dr. George W. Weber, director of the Tuberculosis Hospital, were read by Rev. Frank B. Seeley, president of the Ulster County Department of Health, at the supervisor's meeting Monday evening and ordered filed.

In addition to their annual reports, both Dr. James and Dr. Weber spoke briefly relative to their work. Dr. James said that the year 1947 has been the first under the consolidated county and City of Kingston health departments and much of the work has been toward "accelerating" progress and "consolidating gains" to render more efficient and effective services.

Positions Are Filled

In his report Dr. James stated that with the exception of several public health nurses and one stenographer, all positions in the department have been filled. To date, all but 9 of the 20 townships and 3 of the villages have taken action to abolish their own local health units. In the towns of Lloyd, Ulster, Flattekill, Marletown, Rochester, Shawangunk, Gardiner, Wawarsing and Denning there still exists insufficient nursing coverage but this will improve as more department cars become available and additional public health nurses are recruited to fill vacant positions.

Dr. James called attention to the work done in communicable diseases during the past year. Twenty outbreaks of communicable diseases were investigated and control measures were taken aimed at preventing further spread. Last spring measles was epidemic in the county but there were no deaths and the department cooperated in distributing preventative serum. During the Albany, N. Y., Dec. 2 (AP)—Governor Dewey ordered state departments today to pare the "fat" from their 1948-49 budget estimates and summoned his "cabinet" for an unprecedented session tomorrow to discuss the slashes.

Dewey called for a 7 1/2 per cent reduction in departmental requests in the face of a developing state budget which he earlier predicted would hit an all-time high. Dewey is aiming at no more than $750,000,000, but he said he did not know whether a 7 1/2 per cent cut would hold it under $600,000,000.

The meeting with the 29 departmental and division heads who comprise what Dewey calls his cabinet was scheduled "to go over the situation with which the state is faced" and to get them to "inaugurate a program of reduced expenditures," the governor explained.

Dewey's move, announced at a news conference, came shortly after his disclosure that Budget Di-

BPW Ready To Tackle Snowstorm

All Equipment Is Put on Alert; Personnel Is Apportioned for Duty

Methods Explained
Steuding Tells Ways in Which Force Will Operate

With 16 trucks fitted for snow plows and a crew of drivers and alternates available at all times, Kingston's Board of Public Works is prepared to remove snow from the city's streets at any time. Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding announced today.

The city now possesses five of the large Walters trucks which will be assigned to the most difficult sections. They are center scrapers, and with the positive four-wheel drive, they are the most rugged type of snow plow equipment available for city use, Mr. Steuding said.

Twelve sections have been laid out in the city, each being assigned equipment according to the nature of the terrain, the hilly sections getting the Walters trucks and the flat sections getting the other city trucks. Drivers have already been assigned to their routes, and are becoming familiar with them, Steuding said.

Three of the Walters trucks have been equipped with sand spreaders, and they are sent out first, as soon as snow or ice conditions make hills slippery. One of the sanders works above the West Shore railroad crossing, and two work in the more hilly section below the tracks, one west of Broadway and one east of Broadway.

Hospitals Get Priority

First priority for sanding operations goes to the hospitals, Steuding said. Then the bus routes are sanded and the hills, such as Wurts street, which are used by trucks entering the city.

After snow reaches about four inches, Steuding said, the plows are sent out to the various routes, which include all of the city except Broadway and the uptown

Chicken Coop Fire Leads to Sutton's Arrest for Arson

Highland Youth Is Held for Grand Jury; B.C.I. Says Confession Is Made by Man

Investigation by the State Police B.C.I. of a fire last November 25 which destroyed a building and 500 chickens on the farm of Claude Pulver near Highland led to the arrest yesterday of Henry Sutton, Jr., 27, of Highland on a charge of arson, second degree.

Arraigned before Peace Justice John O. Beaver of Esopus, Sutton waived examination, and was held for the grand jury. He was arrested by Corp. Arthur Reilly of the B.C.I. and Corp. Charles Austin of the uniformed division of the State Police.

Corp. Reilly said today that a full confession had been obtained from Sutton and that he admitted having set fire to some hay and chicken crates in the lower part of the structure.

The Highland man, according to the officer, said he stayed at the scene and watched the fire in its early stages. He went home until fire departments from Highland and Clintonville arrived, the trooper said, and then returned to assist the firemen.

The blaze was discovered by a motorist at about midnight November 25, the officer said. The firemen saved the farm house but the structure in which the fire started was destroyed.

Clues obtained during the investigation led to the arrest of Sutton, the officer said. He was booked at the sheriff's office at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

Palestine Violence Results In Fighting, Burning, Looting

Four Jews Are Dead, 29 Others Said to Be Shot; Nine Arabs Are Reported as Injured as Three-Day Strike Is Begun

Jerusalem, Dec. 2 (AP)—A test of blood and fire began today for the Palestine Partition Plan when thousands of angry Arabs swept through Jerusalem, wrecking, burning and looting Jewish buildings.

Jews counterattacked in bloody fighting. Rioting broke out at other points in the Holy Land, and the casualty toll in mid-afternoon by unofficial count reached four Jews dead, 29 Jews wounded and nine Arabs injured.

Mobs put the torch to 50 buildings in Jerusalem, both Jewish and Arab. Jewish sources estimated the property damage at more than $1,000,000.

Many of Jerusalem's buildings still were burning this afternoon when police and troops restored a semblance of order. The Arabs began their attacks at dawn, with the opening of a three-day Arab strike called by the Arab higher executive to protest the United Nations partition decision. Jews in trucks and afoot counterattacked swiftly.

Fighting broke out at two places tonight on the border of all Arab Jaffa and all Jewish Tel Aviv.

The supreme commander of Hagana, the Jewish underground defense militia, charged that large numbers of Arabs in the Negev desert area "have been ordered to attack settlements there."

His communique, issued at Tel Aviv headquarters of Hagana, said the militia had "taken necessary defense measures."

A pall of smoke over Jerusalem dimmed a bright sun. Hagana fire fighting brigades, armed with clubs and buckets, deployed about all Jewish residential sections. Many young girls were among them. The Jewish forces appeared well disciplined.

Six Jews were arrested in the wreckage of St. Julian's Way after a chase across rooftops. Police said the six, who carried revolvers and grenades, were sniping at Arabs. They were identified as members of a 10-man commission sent to assess damage to Jewish shops.

As darkness approached, sullen mobs faced each other on Princess Mary's Way which was strewn with splintered glass and rubble. The Arabs were armed with knives, stones and slaves, with which they had swooped out of the old wall city in their dawn attack. Police feared the fury of the attacks would mount rather than abate.

Missing Plane Is Located in Crater of Mount in Japan

Tokyo, Dec. 2 (AP)—A U. S. Army patrol found in a Mount Fuji crater today wreckage of an air transport command plane missing since early Sunday. Its pilot and co-pilot, the only two men aboard, were dead.

A 45-mile wind ripping across the snow-covered slopes of the 12,461-foot mountain had made the search slow and hazardous. The two-engine C-47 plane had dropped from sight on a routine three-hour training flight from Haneda Airport to Itami base, near Osaka. Japanese first reported a crash near Mount Fuji, and Japanese mountaineers assisted searchers.

Names of the two dead were not announced.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, Dec. 1—Kerhankson's veteran basketball team was too much for the Ellenville High School quintet and took the annual clash at the high school gym Wednesday night by a score of 39 to 26. The first half was all that could be wished for, so far as local fans were concerned, with Ellenville leading by four points, but they couldn't hold the pace, particularly in the last quarter. The curtain raiser, between the Kerhankson and Ellenville Jaycees, was a walkover for the home team, which won 39 to 6. Coach Gillen gave two dozen members of the local team a chance to get into action before the game ended. The high school team got off to a poor start this year by losing its opening game to Otisville, 37 to 18.

The town of Wawarsing town board at its meeting this week formally abolished the town health district. The board recommended to the county board of health that Dr. Oran M. Roberts, town health officer for the past three years, be appointed deputy county health officer for this district. The position pays $1,200 a year, with $300 for expenses. Leonard Wynkoop was reappointed dog enumerator at a salary of $275. Under new regulation the dog census must be taken during December. The supervisor was authorized to sign a new agreement with the Ellenville Public Library under which the library will receive $2,000 a year for services furnished the people of the town, outside of the village of Ellenville. The town heretofore has paid the library $350, which was considered entirely inadequate. It was indicated that the board would grant an increase of 12½ cents a hour to all highway department employees. Pay under the proposed new schedules will run from 97½ cents to $1.30 an hour. The board took no action on the request of Superintendent of Highways Fleckenstein for the purchase of a fourth snow plow. The board felt that more of the highway machinery debt should be cleared off before purchasing additional equipment.

The Ellenville Veterans, who opened their season at Jeffersonville last week with a one point win over the home team, the score being 47 to 46, were to have played a return game Friday evening on the Ellenville court. Two Jeffersonville players were sent to the showers in the game last week for personal fouls. Boxer, the Ellenville guard, led the Jeffersonville team in scoring, making 15 points.

Spiegel Says Plan Will Hamper Housing

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Marshall Plan coupled with allied proposals to Congress by President Truman will "materially hamper" this country's housing program for 1948, Emmanuel Spiegel, regional vice president of the National Association of Home Builders, maintains.

Speaking at a home builders conference here, Spiegel said yesterday that private industry plans to build in 1948 "at least 50 per cent more housing than the total started for 1947" in northern New Jersey and Kings, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties in New York. But he added:

"We must be constantly vigilant so that our industry is not once again encumbered with unjustifiable restrictions and controls."

Spiegel, also president of the Home Builders Association of Northern New Jersey, reported 25,000 housing units started up to November 1.

Frank W. Cartwright, executive vice president of the national association, described Europe's housing conditions and said:

"We must help the people of Europe to reestablish themselves to prevent them from going over completely to the Communist line."

Fudge for Christmas—that's a holiday treat now possible again with the controls off sugar. But there are a few questions.

Will it be plain chocolate fudge, creamy and smooth? Or will we add plenty of crunchy walnuts for texture contrast? With coconut back after a long absence, why not add some of that? Yes, the possibilities are infinite if you just tie in your thinking can along with your apron when candy-making in your own kitchen.

The recipe for chocolate fudge given here is foolproof because it has been completely tested and re-tested for accuracy and simplicity in the kitchens of a large chocolate company. Follow directions carefully and rest assured of final success.

Chocolate Fudge

Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.); then beat until mixture begins to thicken and loses its gloss.

Turn at once into a greased 8x4x3-inch loaf pan. When cold, cut in squares.

TOLL ROADS

How much is a minute worth to you? This figure of course varies with the viewpoint of the computer, but the Yale Bureau of Highway Traffic has been trying to pin down some figures which it considers typical. A survey has been made which covers the time saved by users of toll roads and toll bridges.

The investigators have found that motorists place a high value on their time, an estimate being from seven tenths of a cent to a little more than one cent per minute. This seems like a high figure to the disinterested observer, but users of the Merritt Parkway and the Boston Post Road value their minutes 28 per cent higher. One purpose of these toll roads, with their lack of curves, intersections and other hindrances to the free flow of traffic, is to save time, and this they undoubtedly do. The other is to save life and limb by decreasing accidents due to intersections at grade. This also they accomplish in some measure.

Some travelers, however, stubbornly refuse to have their routes ironed out for them in this efficient fashion. These eccentrics, whose time is cheap, like to savor the individuality of cities instead of by-passing them, and like to scan the view from the top of a mountain rather than to burrow through it. When they travel for fun they forget the value of a minute, and leave the straight, smooth, and somewhat dull toll roads for business trips, when time is of the essence.

HARD MONEY SHRINKS TOO

Throughout Montana and other western states a lot of shiny new silver dollars have been appearing, bearing the date 1921. The explanation is that mints have not been coining silver dollars for a number of years and are forced to draw on their reserve supply.

A silver dollar may be a "cartwheel" and a rare pocket piece to an easterner, but to the west it's "hard money" and the only kind wanted. None of this paper stuff for the westerners. During the war the smart army paymasters demanded paper money for payment of the troops. But the soldiers soon caught the local enthusiasm for the silver, and the paymasters had to ask for the big coins. So popular are the dollars that four Billings, Mont., banks import almost a half a million of them annually. What happens to them? They go back east, probably, in tourists' pockets.

It might be fair for the rest of the country to ask if a silver dollar remains any longer in the pocket than its paper counterpart. Or does silver melt away just as readily under the fierce onslaught of the good old high cost of living. Montanans admit that the cartwheels shrink, too, but while they last they make more noise in your pocket than do greenbacks.

TOO LATE TO STOP

Emperor Hirohito might have headed off Pearl Harbor, writes Compton Pakenham in Newsweek. The Japanese military leaders, according to his account, suppressed President Roosevelt's personal appeal for peace, not letting the emperor see it until it was too late to stop the Japanese attack.

This left Hirohito in the same box as Kaiser Wilhelm at the outbreak of World War I. With the start of mobilization the Kaiser got qualms, and insisted that the army must halt the blow it was about to give.

"Impossible," the army staff replied, "mobilization is so complicated a process that once started, it must go on." The war machine had run away with its drivers. It kept on going until it crashed into the abyss, taking the German empire with it.

Whatever happens to the relations of the United States and Russia, it would be inexcusable to have war come for no better reason than that the heads of the two governments could not control the leaders of the army and navy.

This is not too likely to happen in the case of Russia at present. Our guess is that the Russian army and navy are not much more anxious for war than ours are. And the Russian heads of government are trying to get

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

WHERE DOES IT COME FROM?

Money, it has been said, does not grow on trees. Of course, if you are raising apples or oranges, it does. That is the trouble with most generalizations: they are only true as long as they happen not to be untrue from a particular point of view.

It is like that process called "common sense." Whose common sense, yours or mine? Lecomte du Nouy, in his magnificent study of fallacy, "Human Destiny," has this to say of common sense:

"Common sense cannot be trusted. It is common sense that leads us to think that the earth is flat; that two plumb lines are parallel (they are both directed toward the center of the earth and consequently form an angle)."

He adds: "If, therefore, the starting point, the premise, of a reasoning is false, the conclusion will, necessarily, logically, be false."

The particular fallacy to which we address ourselves now is the world-wide general assumption that the United States is so rich that it can pour out its wealth in endless profusion and not go broke. The war cost us about $300,000,000,000. And we have been spending like madmen since the war's end. For instance, about $20,000,000,000 has gone into Europe and Asia and there is little to show for it.

We spend with equal profligacy at home. The President makes a terrific holler about high prices, high by subsidies and government-buying. It is a case of the left eye refusing to see what the right eye sees or is the mouth being more speedy than hand? Put it whichever way you like, this country spent $13,600,000,000 on farm subsidies between 1934 and 1946 and that amount will rise to $15,200,000,000 by next July.

True, if you are a farmer, you want subsidies. If you are a Senator or a Representative from a farm state, you will shriek for farm subsidies while, at the same time, you will demand that the price of manufactured goods come down. And all the time you will know that you are a false prophet and a demagogue because that cost of food (often as a labor cost) goes into manufactured goods when runs about 85 per cent labor costs. Therefore, when you demand subsidies for farm products, you ipso facto demand high prices for manufactured goods. Of course, you deny that on the general fallacy of common sense, but the figures do not uphold that kind of common sense. They simply uphold the fact that someone is exceedingly common in the use of his senses.

The same is true of the foreign aid called the Marshall Plan. In Europe, they call it ERP, meaning the European Relief Plan. Whether it is called the Marshall Plan or ERP, it comes to the same thing, about $20,000,000,000. Maybe we have to do that, too. Maybe there is no way out. But let us be absolutely honest about it. If we send $20,000,000,000 out of the country for relief, we shall have to have scarcity here and high prices. That is certain.

So, the appeal ought to be on that basis, because whatever is sent out of the country cannot remain in it. We already suffer scarcity because of the backlog from the war years. If exports amounting to $20,000,000,000 are added to the scarcity, goods must become more scarce and prices must become higher. What is the use of shutting about lower prices as a result of a $20,000,000,000 export program? The two are incongruous. They do not add up.

Instead we should be told the truth, which is that it is the judgment of our government and Senator Vandenberg that it is essential for political purposes that certain countries be subsidized by the United States in order to counteract Russian policy in those areas. To achieve that political policy it is necessary for the American people to tax themselves twice; once, by actually paying high taxes to the Government; and the second time, by paying higher prices for the goods they buy and for the things they need and use. That is the truthful statement of the case, but the politicians grab it in fulsome language.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

FUNCTIONAL VERSUS ORGANIC DISEASE

More than one-half of hospital beds in this country are occupied by patients who are mentally ill.

Of some 15,000,000 men examined by Selective Service 37 per cent of the men rejected for all causes were mentally ill. And even after this large number had been weeded out, 39 per cent of all medical discharges from the army between 1942 to 1945 inclusive were classified as psychoneuroses (mentally ill). This information concerned our men during the war years, when even the bravest show signs of mental upset. What about men and women before and since World War II?

In the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Dr. Joseph T. Weern, Cleveland, states that at least five of every 10 patients who consult physicians prove through examination to have no organic basis for their complaints. This means that most of our complaints are not caused by organic disease, but by functional disturbances of the mind and the emotions.

An organic disease or disturbance is where there is an actual change in the structure of an organ, such as ulcer or cancer in the stomach. A functional disturbance, however, is where there is no change in the structure but the organ does not do its work properly. Examples are a nervous stomach or nervous intestine which upset digestion just as much as where actual or organic disease is present.

If, then, half the patients consulting their physicians have no organic disease but do have mental and emotional disturbances which upset them, how can the family or general physician handle all these cases? He can, of course, make a thorough physical examination and thus be able to assure the patient that no disease is present. He also can explain to him how the emotions upset the natural or proper working of the organs. Thus, he can explain the rapid beating of the heart, the desire to pass urine, the perspiration on hands and forehead, and other symptoms which we have all experienced when we have been upset.

As there are not enough psychiatrists available to treat all these emotional upset patients, Dr. Weern states that an experiment at the University of Minnesota, in which a number of physicians took an extensive course of psychiatry for just two weeks, has proven of great value to physicians and patients.

The Long Arm of Economic Law

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Mrs. Willa Mitchell, Cincinnati, O.

New York, Dec. 1

Dear Mrs. Mitchell:

In the November issue of the official magazine of the Teamsters' Union, you write about the poverty and anxiety of a mother of four children; between 8 and 15, whose husband, a union driver, works 11 or 12 hours a day for about $35 a week. I assume that Mrs. Mitchell's take-home pay is much less. You said you were a little better off than some other teamsters' families because your rent was only $17.50 a month and the average pay of the others, on the word of the union, itself, was only $50.

This is a queer advertisement for a union whose high-salaries for a union group of courtesies, bribes, and intrigues, some of them lean and hungry, are always boasting of their piecework service to the men who drive those motorized box cars over the icy highways—the likes of Mr. Mitchell. If they have done so much to learn their members' pay and lavish expenses and the loyal attachment of the little people, as Mrs. Roosevelt called all you Mitchellians, recently, that service doesn't show in your own report on the financial condition of your family. You don't need a union these days to get your pay up to $55 a week for five days of 11 or 12 hours.

I will quote from your report on the teamsters and contribute some discussion later. "My husband hasn't had a raise for more than 18 months and prices were going up all the time. We have what you would call five meatless days a week. On the other two days, we have steak or roast. The rest of the time it's cold cuts and vegetables. We haven't had butter for 18 months. We use only margarine. The children come first so if there is any money to buy clothes, they get it. My husband hasn't bought an overcoat in four years. My winter coat is three years old. In the last three years I have bought three dresses. We have been really sick. I try to doctor the children but I call a doctor when over I get worried. Outside of an auto ride to Mayville, Ky., occasionally, we don't have much recreation. We haven't gone to a movie or a show for a long time. We have had to turn in our war bonds and get a loan for a Frigid, air so we could keep food cold and my husband needs the car to get to work. My husband will have to get a good raise soon or we will go under. We used to be able to get enough food with our money. That was before they took off price controls. Prices will have to be controlled again and wages will have to be made high enough so everyone can at least live without worry."

You tempt me to wander off in an argument on price control but I will just lay it down and continue. Price controls no longer controlled prices. The black market had taken over and there was no meat at all, you will remember if you think back, at ceiling prices and the black market prices were awful. Then, President Truman, himself, just about election time, wiped out most of the controls in a vain grab for votes and thereafter Congress, not the National Association of Manufacturers, repealed the O.E.A. and it was Congress Mayor Mario De Franceschi to the Taft-Hartley Law, not once but twice. Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—Post-War international philanthropy certainly has its odd moments:

(1) In Manhattan an Irish hack driver kills his own horse to help feed starving Europe, and is promptly arrested by police.

(2) In Italy two small, war-wrecked towns in the beachhead area where thousands of U. S. troops lie buried—Anzio and Nettuno—quarrel bitterly over the division of $100,000 in American gifts.

The two stories point some kind of a moral on the spirit of giving and the spirit of sharing.

Let's first consider the case of John Horkin and his eight-year-old horse, Portaslain, familiar to thousands of New York Yorkers who've taken rides through Central Park in Horkin's old-fashioned hansom cab.

When Portaslain went lame, Horkin, who had been brooding over the hunger in Europe, decided to slaughter this horse he loved, pick the meat and turn it over to an organization sending charitable contributions to Europe. He knew that horsemeat is a delicacy there now in some areas.

"And with the coming of winter," he said, "I was convinced that thousands would die."

A practical man with experience in slaughtering animals in his native county Mayo, Ireland, Horkin decided to do the job himself. So Saturday night he took his horse into the basement of a riding academy, tied it to the bottom of an elevator and then ran the elevator up to the first floor, thus raising the horse on its hind legs. He stunned it with a hammer, slit its throat, and spent 12 hours skinning Portaslain, butchering and putting the meat in brine.

Arrested on a charge of slaughtering without a health department permit, the 39-year-old the International Teamsters and other publications will tell you that the N.A.M. passed the Taft-Hartley Law but it was Congress that passed it, twice.

When you write that wages will have to be made high enough so everyone can at least live without worry, Mrs. Mitchell, you are speaking of a job for your husband's union, not Congress. What else is the union for? What kind of union is this whose members have to put in 11 or 12 hours a day and still can't show their children butter in 18 months?

Cincinnati—That is where old Brocley Farrell, the fifth vice-president, who died in October, ran an absolute dictatorship over eleven teamsters' unions for 24 years by Tolpin's appointment and in all that time wouldn't let the men hold union meetings and refused to account for millions of dollars in union money. And, finally, when some of the boys got their nerve up and sued in court, the upshot of it all was that the issue never was tried, the facts never were revealed, and four lawyers got $5,000 apiece of your money by court order. Money that belonged to these little Cincinnati locals, collected from the miserable wages of men like Mr. Mitchell. Money that might have been spent for meat and butter for the table and clothing. And one of the lawyers who got $5,000 was Joe Padway, the general counsel of the American Federation of Labor and for the Teamsters' International.

When the settlement was announced in the royal court circular of old King Dan's kingdom of almost one million subjects with a treasury of $17,000,000 the old boy didn't tell you that you had been forced to pay $5,000 to his greedy pal, Joe Padway, did he? Nope. What you poor fearless non-entities of the rank and file don't know won't hurt you. If they tell you such things you might get to figuring how much butter and meat that would buy.

I was just looking in some of their recent publications. They say they give you an accounting and you may be stupid enough to believe them. But when you read that "attorney fees" were $68,755 for the year 1947 do you ask for details? Do you demand to know how much Padway got from his old friend, Dan Tobin? Do you know how much of it was spent to frustrate rank and fileers suing for their rights?

Too much was spent even by Tobin's own standards, because old Dan said in his report to the teamsters' convention in October that "the time is coming when we may have to set up our own legal department, employ two or three brilliant lawyers by the year who will travel through the country and help our unions and local lawyers."

Twenty and Ten Years Ago
Dec. 2, 1927—Joseph Disch was elected president of Weiner Hose Company at its annual meeting. Corda, Inc., elected John N. Cordis president.

Judge Augustus Shufeldt was elected president of the Republican Club.

Worry is such a senseless thing. So useless too. The things that never happen are the ones which cause most of our gray hairs.

Talk About Tinkering With Bank Credit Could Contribute to Recession in Nation's Business

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 2.—The last thing anybody in officialdom wants to do is to bring on a recession or depression. Yet the talk which is heard about tinkering with bank credit could conceivably add to the already growing uncertainty which is beginning to envelop business operations.

The talk emanates to no small extent from the activities of the Federal Reserve Board, which apparently is endeavoring to bring about some sort of deflation through curtailment of bank credit.

The Advisory Council of the Federal Reserve Board, which consists of commercial bankers, recently was asked for its views concerning the "rapid expansion of bank credit." This answer was given:

"We find nothing in bank loans themselves to suggest that growth of loans has been an active inflationary factor. It rather appears to have been a reflection of the very high level of business activity and high prices."

"To a large extent" growth of loans is a direct result of government policies. For example, an increase of nearly 4 billion dollars in real estate loans by insured banks since the end of the war reflects directly the purchase of F.H.A. and G.I. mortgages in the housing program. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is encouraging bank lending by guaranteeing risky loans.

The truth is that, with a $225,000,000,000 national economy, banking operations will naturally enlarge.

What the Bankers' Council said to the Federal Reserve Board on the subject of inflation is particularly significant. The statement of the advisory group says in part:

"The causes of our present inflation are not in current banking policies but are found in the great war-time expansion of buying power together with unusual events and public policies since that time. Among recent inflationary causes may be listed the following: "The foreign aid program "A cycle of wage increases in excess of increases in either the cost of living or productivity "A shorter working week "A short corn crop "Veterans bonuses and relief payments

"Agricultural price subsidies "U. S. Government spending of 36 billion dollars a year "Housing subsidies."

To all this the Federal Reserve Board replied that it agrees with the advisory council "that the basic causes of inflation lie primarily outside of the area of current monetary and banking developments." However, the board believes that "all possible measures and policies should be adopted by government, business, farmers and workers to produce more, consume less, and save more, and to avoid cost-and price-raising actions. Furthermore, the board considers that the most effective means of diminishing the basic causes of inflation is maintenance of the largest possible surplus in the government's budget."

On Capitol Hill this is interpreted to mean that the Federal Reserve Board is opposed to tax reductions at this time. Also some of the members of Congress have been questioning Secretary of the Treasury Snyder as to the extent to which he goes along with the Federal Reserve Board on the matter of tightening interest rates, and it is evident that the treasury head doesn't want to increase the amount of expense the government incurs in paying interest on the huge public debt.

Altogether there is much talk about manipulation of government controls presumably to "curb inflation," but clumsy handling of controls can result in a deflationary trend that would not be easy to arrest.

The theory that the national economy can be managed artificially is a residue of New Deals in some quarters. It is a reluctance in either the laws of supply and demand or in the natural behavior of workers and management when confronted with economic facts.

So They Say... —BARBS—

There is one nice thing about boys—they don't talk about other people.

An Ohio woman caught two youths who tried to snatch her purse containing 25 cents. She gave them no quarter.

Sailed to Kansas
Some interior towns of "dry" Kansas were settled by pioneers who arrived in boats. A steamer left Cincinnati in 1854, loaded with settlers and ready-cut houses, and steamed down the Ohio, then up the Mississippi, Missouri, and Kansas rivers. When they ran aground near the mouth of the Blue river, they went ashore and founded the town of Manhattan.

Tried to Prevent Hail
In many European countries great amounts of money were spent in the early years of this century for hail cannon, to "prevent hail. The mortar-like cannon discharged a whirling ring of smoke, but no projectile, and of course, was entirely worthless.

Women occupants of harems in Turkey developed the art of embroidery. They spent endless hours perfecting designs for dress and utilitarian purposes while living in seclusion.

Total U. S. production of pears averages 30,000,000 bushels a year, with about two-thirds of these being produced in California, Oregon, and Washington.

X-ray experts of important new tools to come to them from atomic sources.

X-rays in excess, and also the gamma rays of radium, are known to cause cancer, even though they also cure when given in correct doses. Both these, and other equally useful radioactive rays, come from the atomic oven radioactive atoms.

These atoms, Dr. Abersold said, can be used as tracers to explore everything in cancer metabolism. And he added, it is reasonable to expect that the tracer atoms will give information on the start and the cause of cancers as well as how they are cured.

This time dividing line between cancer and healthy tissue was illustrated to the radiologists by their own hands in an exhibit by Margaret Dixon, Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago, one of the Atomic Energy Commission's great atomic centers.

Nearly half the doctors who use X-rays and radium for medical treatment, she reported, suffer changes in their finger tips. The ridges, which make finger prints, become altered, being either too thick or too thin. If this goes far enough, skin cancers develop on finger tips.

The radioactive exposures also cause another change, at the base of the doctors' finger nails. There a tiny, hairpin-shaped vein changes its shape and becomes curly. The vein also either dilates or gets narrower. In many elderly persons of 65 and more, exactly the same finger nail changes are common. The reason why among the elderly is not known.

But the radiologists get this nail change at a fairly early age, due to frequent exposure to small amounts of X-rays or gamma rays while treating patients. Evidently these finger changes are part of the stage-setting for the start of cancer.

Snakes undergo a period of blindness and abstinence from food when shedding their skins. In changing skins, the old one becomes dry and withered, and the snake forces it back from the lips by pushing against a rough substance, until it is then an easy matter to slide out.

THE X-MOTHER PROBLEM

A young woman who has remarried lately tells me: "I am not sure how to sign letters to my first husband's mother. I am very fond of her and even since my husband was killed in the war, I have continued to address her as 'Mother' and she in turn signs her letters to me the same way. Do you think I could continue to call her what I always have?"

To this, I feel sure it would be very comforting to her if you do. The only one who might object is your present husband. He probably won't if you take the name as a matter of course and don't talk about it.

No Harm in a Post Card

Dear Mrs. Post: While visiting relatives in another state, I met a very nice young man who took me out several times. When I left, we exchanged addresses and he promised he would write to me. I have been back home a month now and haven't heard from him yet. Would it be proper for me to write him a letter or must I wait to hear from him?

Answer: If I were you, I wouldn't write a letter. However, you might send him a picture post card if you want to.

Question About Titles

Dear Mrs. Post: A short time ago my employer asked me to address invitations to a group of our employees and their wives. Most of these men hold degrees, such as Ph.D., M.D., B.A., etc. I always had thought that professionally these men were addressed "Dr." but that socially they were "Mr." With this in mind, I addressed the envelopes to Mr. and Mrs. My employer took exception to this and said that I should have addressed the envelopes to "Dr. and Mrs." Will you please tell me what is proper in this case?

Answer: M.D. is always addressed "Dr." but Ph.D. and B.A. are on social occasions correctly addressed "Mr." This, however, is not a hard and fast rule for others who address them.

Buttering Biscuits

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) May little biscuits be buttered entirely immediately while hot or (2) is it necessary to break them piece by piece and butter these as eaten?

Answer: "One" is correct.

Cocktail parties are very popular

Some of the information given in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-26, "Serving Cocktails," concerns the invitation and also what and how to serve the guests. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Tavern Proprietors To Reject Demands

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Faced with a threatened walkout of 2,000 A.F.L. bartenders, proprietors of some 800 neighborhood bars and taverns in Manhattan voted last night to reject union demands and said they would keep their places open in the event of a strike.

Members of the United Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association of Manhattan, Inc., endorsed the action of their negotiation committee in turning down the union's contract demands and declared that if a strike is called "the association will take steps to protect its members."

Local 15 of the A.F.L.-International Bartenders' Union, said the union's five-year contract with the association, scheduled to expire in 1950, contains an annual reopening clause but he contended that the proprietors had refused to bargain in good faith.

The union is demanding a $5 weekly wage increase and an eight-hour cut in the present 48-hour work week. The present weekly pay scale is $55.

Townsend said that 50 members of the association have signed individual contracts with the union.

When I say that I'm sold on local people my statement is based on knowledge — on the hundreds of loans I've made to them during the past 12 months, many on salary alone, others on car or furniture.

I know that folks in this community are reliable and use common sense in managing their affairs. That's why I can say "Yes" to 4 out of 5 who ask me for a loan — oftentimes making loans that others won't.

Don't borrow unnecessarily, but if increased living expenses are making things difficult, a loan may be the sensible solution to your problem. If it is, telephone or come in today.

To Announce Engagement
Copenhagen, Denmark, Dec. 2 (AP)—A well-informed source close to the Danish royal family said today the engagement of King Mihai of Romania and French-Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma probably would be announced within a month. They now are together in Lausanne, Switzerland, this source said. They flew there together in Mihai's plane Sunday after attending the wedding of Princess Elizabeth in London. Persistent rumors had circulated in London and other European capitals of a romance involving Mihai and Princess Margaret Rose, younger sister of Princess Elizabeth.

Homemade Burglar Alarm Pays Off

David Violet, 50, points out how a double-beam electric eye sets his ingenious homemade burglar alarm into action when two men allegedly tried to enter his electrical appliance shop in Rochester, N. Y. Diagram shows location of magic eyes with beams focused on a mirror. Anyone passing through beams sets off a bell. Stepping onto the roof by a combination window and drawbridge Violet fired at the escaping men, killing one and injuring the other.

Farmers' Forum

Ithaca, N. Y.—Cornell University will reinstate its annual Farm and Home Week next spring, April 6 to 9, it was announced jointly today by Dean W. I. Myers of the College of Agriculture and Dean E. Lee Vincent of the College of Home Economics.

Both deans said the action was taken after a meeting with other Cornell officials responsible for dining, housing, and other facilities on the campus.

Though these facilities are still taxed to capacity by Cornell's 9,600 students, compared with around 6,000 in normal times, Deans Myers and Vincent said special large-scale feeding arrangements can be set up for the 4-day meeting that should take care of food needs. Likewise the housing problem, though difficult, can be surmounted, they declared.

Changing the date from Mid-February to April is considered helpful. Driving conditions will be better, and most visitors can drive to Cornell for the day and either return home or stay in nearby towns and village, that evening.

from Franklin county, where 526 bales, each weighing about 190 pounds, went to market. Oneida was second with 378 bales, and Schoharie, Lewis, Madison, and Ontario followed in that order. With the price varying from 95 cents to $1.10 per pound, it was generally a good year.

According to Professor J. D. Harlan of the N.Y.S. Agricultural Experiment Station, the wet early season resulted in good vine growth, and therefore the size of the crop was good. Yields, he points out, varied from 2 to 6 bales to the acre.

The crop was a little better than average in Franklin county, but below normal in Lewis. The wet season here is blamed since it made work in the yards difficult. On the station's planting in Oneida county, the crop was the best ever.

Calcium-Treated Apples
Geneva, N. Y.—Experiments here have shown that calcium helps retain the original firmness of apples during canning and freezing. Food scientists have also found that calcium-treated apples retain their shape better in pies than do apple slices which were not treated.

According to Doctor Z. I. Kertesz, of the Agricultural Experiment Station, when apples are soft due to advanced ripening, the calcium treatment is every useful in making the tissue firmer before canning or freezing. He advises, however, that apples should be treated before they are packed into the container in which they are preserved.

For canning, the scientists found that adding 0.1 per cent calcium chloride to the salt water in which the apples are usually soaked before steam blanching will do the job. They suggest a short rinse before the fruit is blanched and packed to prevent any possible bitter flavor.

Carozza, in civilian dress, grappled with one of the men as they started searching the club's patrons, and the armed men opened fire.

Comey said the men were being held on charges of suspicion of felony.

Health Department Advises
Children Be Protected
by Immunization

Parents of children who are three months old will be advised through a new campaign of the Ulster County Health Department to protect their babies from whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox.

The new policy was announced today by the department which said it was sending out announcements to the parents.

Attractive cards, pink for girls and blue for boys, will be sent to all children in the county as they reach the age of three months. The plan is along the line of one practiced in Baltimore.

The health department hopes that these cards will serve as reminders to parents that their babies deserve the protection that modern medicine can give them. It is important, it said, to begin protective immunizations at an early age when these diseases cause the most deaths. When a child reaches the age of three months, he should begin to have inoculations against whooping cough, smallpox and diphtheria. Immunizations should be started when the child reaches the age of six months, the department stressed.

All parents are advised to take steps to protect their children by going to their own physician or to the clinics held throughout the county by the Ulster County Health Department. This new policy of sending out greeting cards to three months old children is part of the program to raise the percentage of immunizations in the county.

THE National Ulster County Bank of Kingston

Kingston, N. Y.

Principals at Polio Course

At the opening meeting, the Kingston City Laboratory of the Polio Institute Training Institute in Kingston December 1 through 5 this group expressed the hope that it would turn out to be a very progressive step towards relieving sufferers from the disease in this area. Left is Mrs. William Powers, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter for Infantile Paralysis; Dr. W. Allan Longshore, Jr., M.D., M.P.H., of the Ulster County Health Department and Miss Kathleen Newton, consultant in orthopedic nursing of the National League of Nursing Education.

Polio Institute
Opens in City for Special Training

At Monday night's session in the Kingston City Laboratory of the Polio Institute Training Institute scheduled for Kingston from December 1 through December 5, Mrs. William Powers, chairman of Ulster County Infantile Paralysis Chapter, welcomed physicians, nurses, members of the Ulster County Health Department and hospital staff officials, and expressed the hope that the course would help a great deal in this area in the fight against the crippling disease.

Classes in the course are held afternoons from 1 to 3:30 and in the evening from 7 to 9:30 under the supervision of the Joint Orthopedic Nursing Advisory Service; the Ulster County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Ulster County Department of Health. This plan is for the benefit of nurses, allowing time for them to take advantage of the course, arranged under the direction of Joseph McGarry, executive secretary, and Ray Garrahan, treasurer of the Ulster Polio Chapter.

The year 1946 was the second worst in history, with 25,000 cases. People have now realized that only by being prepared with doctors, nurses and equipment can be waged successfully against polio. In the field of treatment and research such progress has been made that the majority of patients now emerge without permanent deformity. It is largely due to the National Foundation, the only private health agency in the country offering immediate financial assistance on a national scale to all patients once the case is diagnosed as polio. The Foundation is continually training workers, as it is doing in Kingston today, and buying equipment such as convective respirators and hot pack machines for the county's use.

A chapter may feel relatively secure financially, but in case of a heavy epidemic, it can be wiped out in a matter of weeks, for the cost of a single patient is from $400 to $2,000. The annual March of Dimes campaign makes the National Foundation possible.

Papirus, developed in Egypt, was the world's first cheap and abundant writing paper.

Remmert Again Denies
Rumor He'll Resign

Eward H. Remmert, president of The National Ulster County Bank of Kingston, Wall and John streets, whom it was rumored some time ago might resign to accept another position, today denied that rumor again when a Freeman reporter queried him.

Remmert said he had "no idea of making a change" and said the rumor was without foundation. "I shall stay here as long as the directors of the bank desire that I stay," he said.

Lilienthal Reports

may be released upon a large scale and can be controlled by the city.

This demonstration occurred December 1, 1942, on the athletic field of the University of Chicago under the direction of Enrico Fermi, famed Italian scientist.

No Reports Confirmed

The government never has confirmed any reports concerning the nature of the contents of atomic bombs which have been exploded in the past. But it is known they can be made either of uranium 235 or of plutonium, a man-made element produced from uranium.

Lilienthal showed the engineers a small piece of uranium metal. "Only a few years ago there was not this much uranium metal in the world; today we use it by the ton," he said.

He said the nation has spent about $2,500,000 in the atomic enterprise.

"If this country really means business then within the next several years this total expenditure will increase to approximately $5,000,000,000," he added.

Explaining why the government recently has allowed a group of businessmen and engineers access to secret atomic information, Lilienthal said such information must be available to chosen groups if the country is to advance rapidly in developing atomic energy both for peaceful and military uses.

Head of the group which got an inside view of atomic secrets is James W. Parker, president and general manager of the Detroit Edison Company.

Lilienthal said the 11 committee members, working with Parker, will make recommendations for obtaining "broader industrial and engineering participation" in atomic projects.

Goes Before Jury

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—Bleriot H. Lamurre, self-styled "dummy" president of a war contract firm, went before a federal grand jury today promising to "tell all" about his dealings with Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers. Before entering the jury room Lamurre told reporters he plans a court suit to recover $10,000 he claims the retired general owes him. The grand jury is investigating testimony before a Senate committee that General Meyers realized more than $150,000 profits from the concern Lamurre headed. "I'm ready to tell the grand jury all I know—without reservation," Lamurre told reporters.

Attorneys Claim
Forman, Gottfried
Trial Was Unfair

Consolidating Indictments,
Stanton Testimony Used as Basis for Appeal

Attorneys for Joseph Forman, Kingston, and Harold Gottfried, New York, yesterday attacked as illegal the consolidation of two indictments in their "sugar trial" and admission in evidence of an alleged confession by William Stanton of Kingston, former O.P.A. investigator.

The arguments were heard by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New York city, where Attorney John T. Cahill, representing Gottfried, and Henry Epstein, counsel for Forman, sought to have their convictions of March 26 set aside.

Forman was sentenced last spring to a year and a day in jail and fined $5,000. Gottfried received a sentence of three years and fined $10,000 and Stanton was jailed for a year and a day when found guilty of conspiracy "to deprive the government of the faithful services" of Stanton by means of a $200 bribe.

In addition, Gottfried and the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corp., of Ellenville, of which he was former president and owner, were convicted of falsifying statements concerning the corporation's 1941 sugar consumption, and the firm fined $10,000.

Cites Illegality

According to the Associated Press, Attorney Epstein said yesterday:

"The Stanton statement was obtained by illegal means and should not have been admitted in evidence. The evidence against Forman was weak and inconclusive and in all probability there would have been no conviction if this proof had been properly and separately presented."

The statement, both attorneys contended, was obtained from Stanton in 1945, when Stanton was serving a two-year prison sentence in a Connecticut federal prison. Stanton was brought to New York to testify before the grand jury which returned the indictment, both attorneys said, and was illegally detained for 15 days while federal authorities questioned him, aiming "90 per cent of the questions at the incrimination of Forman," according to Epstein.

For that reason, and because the grand jury and the trial jury were not representative of the 11 districts of the southern district of New York, the defendants were deprived of the fair trial guaranteed by traditions, Cahill said.

Blame Judge

Another alleged reversible error, both defense attorneys contended, was the failure of the trial judge, Harry E. Watkins, to dismiss as a juror John G. Van Voorhis, foreman, who was described as a "hostile juror who wouldn't listen to defense counsel." Motion to remove the foreman during the trial was denied, the attorneys said today, but after the court had charged the jury a few moments before deliberations began, Van Voorhis was dismissed and an alternate juror substituted.

"A criminal trial in a federal court is a solemn and serious proceeding," Epstein said, "should at least afford a minimum of safeguards to the accused. The proceedings in this case have been shown without any real contradiction by the government to fall far short of the standards of a fair trial."

After signing the alleged confession, Stanton repudiated its contents and stood trial with the others. The confession was admitted in evidence over objections of defense attorneys.

Mabel Shannon

ed jointly on the conspiracy charge, and individually on the specific charge of kidnapping Miss Fitzwater. The government elected to try the pair for conspiracy.

In opening statements late yesterday, counsel for the defendants contended Miss Fitzwater went voluntarily to Kingston to avoid testifying in the state case charging her with running a house of prostitution in Charleston.

Miss Shannon told the court when questioned by Assistant U.S. District Attorney A. Garnett Thompson that she became acquainted with both Marrello and Ferguill "about two weeks" before Miss Fitzwater allegedly was taken from the city.

She added that Marrello had told her on a number of occasions that if Miss Fitzwater, a North Charleston resident, could be prevented from testifying against him he could escape a penalty.

In the course of her testimony she also told arrangements made by Marrello's home on Sunday, September 14, calling for her to meet Miss Fitzwater about 4 p. m. on the following day and get her intoxicated. She said she then was told that Ferguill would "go ahead with the rest of the plan."

Miss Shannon then told the jury that she was taken by Marrello to his home on Monday, September 15, and given $10 and a pint of liquor with which to carry out her part of the plan.

She outlined visits made by her and Miss Fitzwater to several Charleston night spots, then told the court that shortly after 11 p. m. Marrello and Ferguill, accompanied by Lois Cicero, 19, met them in a Charleston club and that she, Ferguill, Miss Fitzwater and Miss Cicero left in Marrello's car.

Both Miss Shannon and Miss Cicero are mentioned as co-conspirators in the indictment in the case but are not named as defendants.

Downtown Clinic
For City's Children

To Be Immunized Against Whooping Cough and
Other Diseases

A new downtown clinic to give immunizations against whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, it was announced today.

The clinic will operate in the recreation hall, 97 Broadway near the Orpheum theatre from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. every Monday afternoon.

Dr. James, county health commissioner, stresses that it is particularly important to start immunizations against whooping cough when a child is three months old. Three-fourths of the deaths from whooping cough occur in babies under one year. Contrary to popular opinion, whooping cough is a dangerous disease in babies and causes many deaths. With the new vaccine that has been proven effective, it is possible to foresee a time when there will be practically no deaths from this disease.

Diphtheria immunization should be started when a child is six months old and a booster dose given just before the child enters school, he said. Ulster county has been fortunate in having no deaths from diphtheria in a few years but there is always danger of an epidemic of diphtheria unless 70 per cent of the population is protected by immunization. According to available local figures, Ulster county has almost attained this level but we must be continually on guard against diphtheria.

The health department urges all parents to have their children immunized against diphtheria either by going to their own doctor or to health department clinic at recreation hall, there is a regular Monday clinic from 4 to 5 p. m. at 25 East O'Reilly street.

The first entry for the 1948 beef competition of the Ulster County 4-H Club has been listed by Charles Relyea of the Hurley 4-H Club, Miss Margaret M. Brundage, assistant 4-H Club agent, announced today.

The calf, an Aberdeen Angus steer, is about five months old, weighs approximately 500 pounds and was purchased from the Victor Calf ranch at Woodstock. It is jet black but has been nicknamed "Whitey," Miss Brundage said.

It is the hope of young Relyea who won honors at both the local and Dutchess county fairs this year, to place the animal up for auction at next year's Ulster County Fair. The calf is the same type as those bought some time ago by the Beck Market on Broadway.

All other 4-H Club members in the county, who are interested in entering the baby beef competition are asked to contact Miss Brundage at the 4-H Club office, 74 John street, Kingston.

Johnson Is Held
To Face Grand Jury

Assault Charge, Policy
Ship Possession
Against Him

Peter Johnson, 23, of 84 Bruyn avenue, waived examination when brought before City Judge Matthew V. Cahill today on a charge of second degree assault. He was ordered held for grand jury, with bail to be fixed by a judge other than the city judge. He was also charged with possession of policy slips, and the case against him on that charge was adjourned until January 5.

Johnson was arrested last week on the assault charge as the result of an alleged fight with Edward Forgy, 33, of R.F.D. 3, Kingston, who was taken to Kingston Hospital with abrasions of the face. Forgy was discharged from the hospital on Monday. The second charge was placed against Johnson after police had searched his automobile, and allegedly found the policy slips.

Doorbell Ringer
Does Stunt at 6 P.M.

A resident of 23 Prospect street reported to police Monday evening that an unknown man rings the doorbell at that address every evening, usually about 6 p. m.

No description of the man was furnished, but the complainant said it must be an adult, since one of the family reported seeing a face peering in the window, which was too high, off the ground for a child to look over.

Police were ordered to check the vicinity in a radio car, but no prowlers were found.

Justice Bergan Grants Judgment to School District

Holding that School District No. 24, town of Wawarsing, is a part of Union Free School District No. 1, known as the Grahamsville school district, Justice Francis Bergan has granted judgment in favor of District No. 1, without costs, in a controversy which came before him through an action brought by the City of New York to determine to which district school tax money should be paid. He directs that if School District No. 24 desires to appeal it may submit an order staying the judgment.

Originally the City of New York brought an action to have the court determine to which district tax money should be paid for the years 1946 and 1947. There was involved some $70,000 as tax on the Lackawack reservoir.

It was contended that the Wawarsing district No. 24, of which Horace Porter was trustee and Albert A. Downe, collector, was not a part of Union Free School District No. 1, although it had been voted to join the district.

A. W. Lent of Highland appeared as attorney for Union Free School District No. 1 and H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville appeared as attorney for School District No. 24. The matter was heard by Justice Bergan in October at special term.

Action Against Trustees
The City of New York brought the action against Horace Porter, trustee, and Albert A. Downe, collector, of School District No. 24, town of Wawarsing, and Blanche Curry, collector, and the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 1 of the towns of Neversink and Fallsburg in Sullivan county and Denning, Wawarsing and Rochester in Ulster county.

School district No. 24 moved to dismiss the complaint upon the grounds the court had no jurisdiction of the subject matter of the action. That motion to dismiss was denied by Justice Bergan who held the Supreme court did have jurisdiction in the matter. He held that the controversy involved a construction of statute and rights of a taxpayer affecting its property, as well as a controversy within the school system.

In his decision Justice Bergan says in part:

"It is therefore necessary to reach the merits of this controversy and to give a judgment affecting them. I hold these views:

leading to the judgment to be given:
(a) Nothing in Education Law, former sections 130 to 133, requires contiguity in the common school or union free school districts to be consolidated by petition and vote of the electors. The statute (Section 130) merely relates to "two or more common school districts" or "two or more union free school districts" and "one or more common school districts" or "one or more union free school districts."

It says nothing about location or contiguity. It merely enumerates the kinds of districts which "may be consolidated . . . by a vote of the qualified electors thereof."
I am unable to find the judicial or other authority to write "contiguous" into this kind of a statute. It cannot be imported from Section 381, which sets up supervisory districts and requires that the "territory of such districts" must be contiguous. If the Legislature desired a limitation of contiguity imposed on the action of electors in consolidation, I would suppose that it would have said so, as it did in Section 381.

(b) The burden of showing a lack of contiguity, assuming that to be necessary, would be upon the party attacking the validity of the consolidation. The record shows that the boundaries of districts are loosely drawn according to a pragmatic rule of populated farms. The area between the districts affected, if in fact there is an area other than in disputed opinion, is unpopulated and I hold that the burden of showing a factual lack of contiguity has not been met.

(c) The proof shows a full compliance with Sections 131 and 132 in respect of the proceedings for consolidation by petition and vote.

(d) That being so, Mr. Roosa, the district superintendent of the third supervisory district, was required by law to issue the order carrying into effect the vote taken. The statute seems to allow no room for a difference of opinion between the superintendent and the voters when the latter have followed the preceding two sections. The superintendent "shall thereupon issue an order" of consolidation (Section 133). This is mandatory; it confers no discretion. He could not have excepted district 24, and therefore his notation on the order to except it is without significance.

Submit decision and judgment."

SHOKAN

Shokan, Dec. 1—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones paid a brief visit to their mountain road farm home last Friday. The couple have been at the home of their son, Edward, in Scarsdale, pending departure for Shreveport, La., where they expect to spend the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cohen and sons, William and Frank, spent Thanksgiving Day with their relatives, Joseph Cohen and family, in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Albin Embler and son, John, of Washington, D. C., were holiday guests at the residence of Mrs. Embler's aunt, Mrs. Benjamin Van Steenburgh.

The saved-off shotgun of today is associated in the minds of most persons with gangsters and the like, but Louis Thiel, retired state road farmer, has an old one in his valuable collection of firearms which never saw other than legitimate use. Mr. Thiel's possession of the gun dates back some 60 years to the day when he first saw the muzzle-loader in the barn of a neighbor in the now extinct village of Olive Branch. Lou admired the weapon and with boyish frankness remarked that he "wouldn't mind having that gun," whereupon the owner, who was probably the most prominent citizen of the village, replied "Well son, if you'll shoot it off, you can have it." Doubtless both man and boy expected nothing more exciting than a stiff "kick" from the recoil which might send the lad reeling backward a bit. What really happened, however, was that the old gun exploded, ripping open the long barrel more than half way down to the stock. So, Lou got his gun which he later sawed off and equipped with a shorter ramrod for tamping down the powder, wadding and shot. It's a good-looking little gun too, though a fellow might not think that way if he were looking at it from the wrong end.

Peter Brandel, engineer on a merchant marine tanker, has completed a trip to Antwerp, Belgium, with a cargo of oil and is now bound from that port to Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert, local summer boardinghouse keeper, drove up from Flushing to spend the week-end at their place in the village center. The couple plan to go to Florida later on in the winter.

A birthday on Thursday, December 4, is that of Jean Ann Carpenter, daughter of James and Anna Carpenter, summer visitors to Shokan. Jean was born at Far Rockaway and her home is in Richmond Hill, L. I. She attended Mary Louise Academy in Jamaica and is now a student at Albertus Magnus College, New Haven, Conn. Jean plans to become a doctor of medicine.

Boys of '61: This installment of the column's series of sketches on those sons of Olive who served in the Civil War is dedicated to a few of the 42 boys who did not return alive to their home town. The writer does not know whether these five were brought home for burial or whether they remain in some "Yankee Cemetery" such as are scattered throughout the Southland. Some of the lads were killed outright, in battle or otherwise; many died of wounds at base and field hospitals; while still others were victims of fever,

Junior D.A.R. Plans
Christmas Dance

The annual Christmas dance sponsored by the Junior Group Wiltwyck Chapter D.A.R. will be held Saturday, December 27 at the Chapter House. Dancing will be from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. with Ray Randall's orchestra. The committee planning the dance includes the Meses John Schlee, Alfred Harder, Alfred Relyea, Roger Billings, Stuart Randall, Edwin T. Strong, John Saxe, Adam H. Porter and J. Douglas Rattray.

Plans for the dance were announced at the regular December meeting of the Junior Group Monday night at the chapter house. Three new members were initiated by Mrs. Maynard Mize, regent. They are Miss Elizabeth Schoonmaker, Miss Virginia Curtis and Mrs. Ruth Friedel.

An invitation was received from Friends of the Revolution to attend the Colonial ball to be held February 20, 1948, in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Plaza, New York city. It is sponsored by the C.A.R. and Junior D.A.R. Anyone planning to attend is asked to contact Mrs. Herbert Foster. The group voted to send Kathleen a suit for Christmas and a collection was taken. A candle light carol sing was conducted.

Afterward the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of Lutheran Church of the Redeemer gave the Christmas message for the group. He urged the group to realize the true spirit of Christmas in the evergreen decorations, gift and cards and lights. He said, "The many lights and candles are only a symbol of the greater light which was given to us so many years ago. God's gift of Jesus to all." He asked the group to choose Christmas cards wisely portraying the true meaning of Christmas, for without the coming of the Christ child there would be no Christmas.

Hostesses for the evening were members of the hospitality and executive committees.

Linoleum Cleaning

Here's a good schedule for cleaning linoleum: Dust daily. Damp mop with plain water once a week. Scrub with mild soap and water two or three times a year. Wax every two weeks. Use little water when mopping your floor, as the excess tends to seep through the edges or openings in the seams, causing mildew or rotting of the backing material.

New Mop Pail

A deluxe mop pail now on the market does your mop wringing job for you with a springless treadle operated by one foot. No need for your hands to touch water or mop-head.

Chez Emile Battles Sicklers For YMCA Basketball Title

Both Clubs Boast Identical Records: 8 Wins, One Defeat

Sickler's Delivery and Chez Emile clash in the Y Autumn League championship games on the Y court tonight at 8 o'clock.

Physical Director Lou Schafer predicts an all-time attendance record for the playoff between the crack squads that won eight out of nine starts in league competition.

Sickler's have been established as three-point favorites over the Chezies mainly on the theory that a Neil DuBois team always wins in the clutch. DuBois has piloted four consecutive championship squads in the last four years in Kingston.

Teams Star Studded

Sickler's pin their hopes on the accurate shooting eye of Frank Suss and George Bloom, while "Pink" McElrath, bulwark of the Chez Emiles carries the hopes of his squad. Both teams are reported at full strength and at top physical condition.

The championship game will be flanked by a 7 o'clock preliminary between the Kerhonkson Otto Clippers and the newly-organized Skyline quintet in a regular winter league game; and a Governor Clinton-Milton Lumber clash at 9 o'clock.

Canadian Ace

JOE SANDULO

Crack Canadian lightweight who battles Harold Keyes, the smooth punching Utian is one of the top bouts on the amateur boxing card Thursday night at municipal auditorium.

Sandulo defeated George Jackson of Schenectady, in a thrilling bout when the Canadians made their first appearance here six weeks ago.

Other Canadian standouts who will be seen in action against top-notch Adirondack AAU and Metropolitan opponents are Johnny Page, brilliant welterweight prospect; Ronnie LaCelle, the gifted 135 pounder; Douglas Roe and Eric Senor.

The boxing promoters anticipate an SRO crowd because of the smash hit registered by the Canadians on their first appearance.

Irish Hold No. 1 Spot

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Notre Dame retained the top ranking among the nation's football teams today in the weekly Associated Press poll but its margin over runner-up Michigan was cut to a mere eight points.

The unbeaten Irish, who close out their season against Southern California's Rose Bowl eleven Saturday, gathered 1,184 points to Michigan's 1,176. A week ago, the Irish led the Wolverines by 30 points.

The Irish placed on every ballot with their lowest ranking being seventh place, while Michigan's Big Nine champions and Rose Bowl entrants slipped out in one. The Wolverines were ranked no lower than fourth on any ballot.

In The Pocket with CHARLIE TIANO

Bagatelles:

Maintaining the high standard of the past several years, the Kingston Bowling Association keglers contributed $300 to the annual Bowler's Victory Legion drive. . . . In this respect it is interesting to note the tremendous response in Saugerties where $80 was raised.

President Howard Spaulding appointed a committee of three men to contact Castle Point Veterans Hospital to determine how the money could most advantageously benefit the majority of the ward patients. . . . The superintendent said the hospital could use two more record players. . . . Purchase of the two machines has been authorized by the K.B.A. and 50 records will go with them at Christmas. . . . Whatever balance remains will be used to buy additional records. . . . If you desire to further assist in the program send a record album to Castle Point. . . . That's nice going on the part of Kingston keglers.

Splits and Misses:

Bob Hanley batting at 198 in the Major League is a strong threat to Johnny Ferraro. Van Kleeck's now look like Kingstons bet for Hudson Valley League honors. . . . Hanley, if he becomes a regular, will furnish added power and the Truckmen are thoroughly attached to alleys 5 and 6. . . . At their present rate, Hotel Ulsters, the defending champions will be lucky to finish in the first division unless Randy Keider can come through with badly needed assistance. . . . The truth is the Ulsters just aren't hitting their home planks. . . . 1000 or more was just another game last year. . . . Now it's an accomplishment. . . . Saugerties Aces achieved a magnificent upset in jarring the Middletown Lustberg Nats three straight last week in Saugerties. . . . The Nats dropped five out of six in their last two appearances in the county. . . . Remember way back when Brown Hunter and his gang just threw their mineralites on the rack and won a match? . . . The Lustberg-Nasts certainly throw a bewildering variety of cross hits, nose hits and pocket blists. . . . Remind you of last year's Colonials on alleys 13 and 14.

The Duchess Says:

And who is the Duchess? Well for the time being the identity of this newly assigned female bowling correspondent will remain a secret. . . . How long it stays a secret is something else. . . . Her first contribution reeking in the Shakespearean traditions read something like this:

"KING POCKET. The First. The Duchess in behalf of the Queen and her attendants, implores your majesty's grace in hearing our past, present and future successes, disappointments, and ambitions in the great game of American tenpins. . . . It has been most apparent your subjects have been lazily lax in their bid for your favors so far this season. . . . Nevertheless, this lowly one feels we are on the verge of another big season and that there will be many interesting tales to jest about for your majesty's delight before the Twelfth Night and Wiltwyck season unfolds in the spring. . . . The Queen, meeting some real competition this year, in the Blonde Bomber, will endeavor to try and hold your favor. . . . This will enliven the realm to the delight of many of the subjects. . . . If the foregoing entry into The Pocket draws a smile from a curious reader or two (do we have two?) no disconcertation was intended, merely sent in a jocose manner to see if you receive as well as you dispense. . . . Sincerely, . . . The Duchess. . . . It's only the beginning, folks!"

The Mayor of Cat Holler Says:

To the Conservation Department. Please send 100 land posters. If those damfool city slickers don't stop shooting my prize heifers for deer, you will hear more about this.

BULLETIN: Chicago, Dec. 2 (BB's)—The Chicago Classic League, the nation's strongest bowling wheel, today announced a new elimination system for league keglers. Each team will have four regulars with two other bowlers battling for the dubious distinction of being dropped at the end of several weeks of play. Nobody has asked the "low man" what they think about the system. . . . Florio Glemming, Ref Tico and Sil Gimpson, three of the "sharps" said they had no comment since they are not affected by the bizarre ruling.

If Dot Flemings had a splitting headache Sunday night it was with good reason. She converted four splits in a match, three in one game. . . . the 9-10, 5-7, 2-7 and 5-9-10.

MULLIGAN, MIKE SAYS: The world is a spiritual kindergarten where millions of bewildered infants are trying to spell God with the wrong blocks.

Michigan's One-Two

Michigan's one-two punch, Bump Elliott, left, and Bob Chappuis will next be let go against Southern California in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, Jan. 1.

Please, Mister

Frank Kuzma appears to be listening to the pleading of Wisconsin halfback Jim Embach, who doesn't want Minnesota's fullback to make more than the six yards he has already covered. Neither pleading nor tackling availed as the Gophers won in Minneapolis, 21-0.

Penn and Columbia Place Three on All-Ivy Eleven

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Columbia, first to defeat Army, and unbeaten Pennsylvania, each placed three men on the All-Star Ivy League football team selected for the Associated Press by the loop's coaches.

The Quakers, tied only by Army in a rugged eight-game campaign and winner of the Ivy flag, are represented on the first team by Charles Bednarik, their great center; George Savitsky, huge tackle; and Tony Minisi, a southpaw halfback.

Gene Rossides and William Swiacki, co-partners in Columbia's famed and feared passing attack, are stationed on the star spangled team in the backfield and at end, respectively. The third Lion is Joseph Karas at guard.

John Prehlik of Yale was placed at the other guard spot by the mentors of the two-year-old circuit with Howard Houston, Harvard's sophomore tackle, holds down the spot opposite Savitsky. Dale Armstrong of Dartmouth is Swiacki's running mate on the flank.

Ferd Nadherny, Yale's candidate for All-American honors until injured in mid-season, and Princeton's Richard West complete the first team Lackfield.

The teams: LE—William Swiacki, Columbia. LG—George Savitsky, Pennsylv.

RG—Joseph Karas, Columbia. RT—Howard Houston, Harvard.

RE—Dale Armstrong, Dartmouth. B—Gene Rossides, Columbia.

B—Tony Minisi, Pennsylvania. B—Ferd Nadherny, Yale.

Second team: Ends—Di Stasio, Cornell, and Setear, Yale.

Tackles—Williams, Princeton, and Walters, Brown.

Guards—Frank, Yale, and J. Young, Dartmouth.

Center—Perantoni, Princeton. Backs—Furso, Yale; Kusserow, Columbia; Kozak, Brown; and Dawson, Cornell.

Baseball Aces With Millerton

A power-packed lineup with a definite emphasis on baseball stars is what the Millerton Legionnaires will throw against the Kingston Legion Wednesday night at municipal auditorium at 9 o'clock.

Heading the list, of course, is Wes Westrum, now a New York Giant catcher. The Millertons also have Vin Crawford, a Dutchess county diamond standout for the past 20 years and Bob Boyer, ex-Poughkeepsie High School star, who was one of the better players in the 1940 clash between the Hudson Valley Juniors and the Brooklyn Against the World nine.

Westrum is said to be the fastest man on the squad. He was awarded the most valuable player prize in the Poughkeepsie City League last season.

Boston — Joey Angelo, 137, Providence, outpointed Dennis Pat Brady, 131, Hartford, (10).

Holyoke, Mass. — Bill Burton, 141; St. Louis, stopped Juan Carero, 140, Puerto Rico, (10).

Yankees Seek Walt Masterson; Giants May Land Vander Meer

Miami, Fla., Dec. 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees, disturbed by the sudden turn of events which labeled the bankrolled Boston Red Sox as the team to beat for the 1948 flag, have taken their first direct step toward making a staunch defense of their world championship.

Out of a maze of trade rumors involving nearly every major league team represented here, on the eve of the opening of the National Association's convention, has come the news that the Yankees have completed a deal for Pitcher Walter Masterson of the Washington Senators.

Manager Bucky Harris of the Yankees admitted that a deal for a starting pitcher was on the fire, but added that no official announcement would be made until the major league conclave which begins next Monday in New York.

Due Next Week

"We should have an important player deal announcement to make in New York next week," Harris said. "In fact, it looks as if we might have two deals to announce."

The Red Sox, in obtaining Junior Stephens, Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder from the St. Louis Browns, have become too tough. We can't afford a stand pat policy.

Masterson is the bespectacled right-hander the Yankees were after in the spring of 1947, together with First Baseman Mickey Vernon, but President Clark Griffith of the Senators refused to part with two of his key men. Off to a slow start, the 27-year-old native of Philadelphia won 12 games and lost 16 last season.

Heath on Block

Bill DeWitt, general manager of the Browns, who yesterday disclosed that he had placed Jeff Heath and Jake Early on the block, said he had obtained waivers on Heath and was readying a deal with a National League team for the hard hitting outfielder.

The New York Giants, still searching for a pitcher, were offered Southpaw Johnny (Double No-Hit) Vandermeer by Johnny

Clippers Blast Napanoch, 63-44

The Kerhonkson Otto Clippers trounced Napanoch Prison, 63-44, in a warmup game for the I.D.D. League schedule, Sunday on the prison court.

The Clippers were leading 23-21 when they suddenly exploded for 18 consecutive points to turn the game into a rout.

The I.D.D. League starts its schedule on December 14, with the Clippers as defending champions.

Neun, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, who demanded a centerfielder in exchange. It was said Manager Mel Ott of the Giants was willing to part with Reserve Outfielder Lloyd Gearhart, but Neun preferred Bobby Thomson or Carol (Whitely) Lockman.

Cincinnati also was reported taking a trade with the Chicago Cubs involving Shortstop Eddie Miller and Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, Cub outfielder. The Boston Braves were ready to trade Dick Culler to the Cubs for a pitcher.

Bill Veck and Lou Boudreau, president and manager of the Cleveland Indians, respectively, arrived in town last night, but reported they had not advanced past the conversational stage in their efforts to lure a pitcher and an outfielder from the Detroit Tigers.

Frank "Boots" Leskie staged an amazing comeback in the City Minor League to pile up a 634 triple, best performance of the night and achieved in the hardest possible manner.

The old shortstop star of City League days opened with an anemic 140, suddenly found the range and smashed out counts of 248 and 248 for his top bowling chum of the season.

High scores were common throughout the loop. Pete Tatarzewski flashed 216-569, Miltie Arlensky rolled 549; A. Amato whacked a 245 finisher and 573 trio; Pete Nagy shot 202-552; Norm Sanders 203-550; J. Ercowano 200-520; Ben Marcus 200-548; T. Welch 224-569; Herman Osmer 201-566; "Dutch" Norton 208; Tom Parker 213-559; and Frankie Norone 211-579.

Tirsch Hits 425
The Good Neighbor fans flocked around Hal Tirsch to see how he would react to his colossal 688 series of last Monday and the answer came quickly. For Hal, overwhelmed by the adulation playfully and pressure bogged down to a lowly 425. His opening games of 180 and 184 proved that even the Fuller Brush man can have his off days.

Meyer Levy was the star of the night, firing a 601 triple with 202, 212 and 187. Murray Greene had a 212-571; T. Adner 211; J. Singer 543; and H. Schneider 224-539.

City League
A couple of 600s were recorded in the City League where Dick Howard shot 600 with 282 and Jack Haulbeck pyramided 169-234-200-603 for the Central Hudson.

Varsity Five Signs Players

The Varsity Five, Kingston's female basketball squad that plays the preliminaries to the Legionaire attractions at the municipal auditorium, faces Cornwall this week with a lineup that has been greatly strengthened since its last loss last week to Highland Falls.

The complete roster now includes: F. Blanche Glass, Ethel Hornbeck, Shirley Keltzer, Marla Buddington, Louise Leonard, Mickey Amarello, Dot Parks, Evelyn Watrous, Betty Douglas, Rose Hogan and Lorraine Baker.

Burt Streeter, team manager, said the Varsity is trying to lure Mabel Wood of Highland Falls into a comeback. At one time Miss Wood was regarded as the top woman basketball player in the county.

Says Main Is Father
Los Angeles, Dec. 2 (AP)—Superior Judge Leo Freund, who inspected the big toes of a man and boy in his courtroom, has decided the man is the father of the boy. Miss Mildred Goldberg, 40, sued to establish paternity of her son and asked the court to observe what she termed were similarities in formation of the big toes of Edward W. Pollinger, 39, a market operator, and the boy, Matthew, 7. Judge Freund didn't say whether he considered the big toes in making his finding yesterday, but he did declare Pollinger the father and ordered him to pay $40 a month for the boy's support.

One Child Killed, 3 Injured
Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 2 (AP)—Dolores Sparti, 11, daughter of First Sgt. Joseph F. Sparti of 124 Wallabout street, Brooklyn, N. Y., was killed and three other children were injured Sunday by explosion of a German anti-aircraft shell they found while playing. U. S. Army headquarters said the explosion occurred near Giessen, in upper Hesse. Glen T. Spiller, 6, son of Master Sgt. Cecil H. Spiller of Bankston, Ala., was injured seriously and Charles Spiller, 10, and Joseph Sparti, 8, less seriously.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE
Three Spades Made By Forcing a Ruff
By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
I had the pleasure of playing in a recent tournament with Irwin Fisher of Baltimore, Md. I consider him an exceptionally fine card player. My game with him confirmed that opinion. Here is one of the hands that Fisher played.

The king and ace of diamonds held the first two tricks for West, then he shifted to the queen of clubs. Fisher (South) won this in dummy with the king and took two more rounds of trumps, winning the second round in his own hand. Then he led the six of clubs and played the eight-spot from dummy.

my. East won the trick and returned a heart. Fisher won with the ace and led a low club. West put on the nine-spot. Fisher won in dummy and East showed out.

At this point Fisher led dummy's low club and trumped it; then made the play which he said gave him his only possible chance—one chance in a thousand, but it worked. He led a small heart and West had to win with the king. Now there was no way to keep Fisher from getting a ruff and a discard, as West had to lead a diamond. This gave him his contract of three-odd.

Supervisors Are Guests of County Health Board

Members of the Board of Supervisors were guests of the Ulster County Health Department Monday evening at dinner served at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital following the annual inspection of the hospital. Approximately 50 guests and members of the Health Department made an inspection of the hospital and then were served a turkey dinner.

The Rev. Frank B. Seeley, president of the Board of Health, welcomed the guests and Chairman Edward E. Murray of the Board of Supervisors responded thanking the members of the Health Department for the splendid dinner.

Mr. Murray congratulated the Board of Health as well as Dr. George W. Weber, superintendent of the hospital, for the splendid condition of the hospital.

During the inspection trip of the building every department was carefully inspected and found to be in excellent shape. There is a noted change in the morale of the patients and nurses at the hospital and patients commented upon the splendid care which they are receiving at the hospital.

At the present time there are 55 beds occupied in the hospital. Additional X-ray equipment has been received and parts which have been on order for some time and which were delayed because of war conditions have been received and installed. The entire hospital is in excellent shape, considering that the hospital has been in use sixteen years and there had been difficulty experienced in the past few years in getting equipment and supplies because of inactivity and the inability of securing many needed items during the war years. Gradually the hospital is being repaired and all departments were found in unusually good condition. In the annual report of Dr. Weber, certain work which has been delayed because of inability to get the work done, was called to the attention of the board and much of this work will be carried out during the coming year, if supplies necessary to the work can be secured.

Following the inspection the Board of Supervisors convened for the transaction of routine business.

Bible Study Is Resumed At Congregational Church

The Bible Study Class which meets at the Poughkeepsie Congregational Church on Abruzzo street, will resume sessions Thursday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock. The class is currently studying the Book of Galatians together with twelve-foot comprehensive dispensational chart. The class is open to the general public and anyone interested in Bible study. Bibles are furnished to all in attendance. The Rev. Dr. Osterhouse, Phillips, minister of the church, is the class instructor.

County Will Raise

smallpox which occurred in New York and Dutchess counties over 40,000 Ulster residents were immunized within two weeks after the Dutchess county outbreak.

The report referred to routine immunization clinics which were held, weekly clinics being held in Kingston, and other clinics being held in townships.

Attention was called to rabies among foxes, dogs and cattle in adjoining counties but no rabid animals have yet been found here. The situation is being watched closely.

Ulster county has been chosen by the State Department of Health as the first to be authorized to use the new penicillin-injector for all types of syphilis treatment. This cut the cost from $150 per case to $50 and a total of 62 patients have been treated. Only about 40 per cent of those treated were county charges. Most of the cases arranged for payment for the treatment.

Used to Capacity
The report states that the Tuberculosis Hospital is being used at nearly full capacity. Field clinics for the first time have been established giving people in the county areas an opportunity to have chest X-rays without attending clinics at the hospital. This has resulted in an increase of 100 per cent in number of X-rays taken and has resulted in a total of 60 new cases. Preliminary use of streptomycin for the treatment of selective and serious cases has been on the program. Many other services have been rendered.

Plans for the tumor clinic building are now being prepared in detailed form for presentation to contractors who will bid on the construction and plans are being made now toward organization of the staff, clinic policies and a Consultant visiting staff to be secured from Memorial Hospital in New York city. Actual construction of the clinic building will be commenced next spring.

The report reviewed Maternity, Infancy and Child Hygiene. Bed-side care has been one of the immediate results of a nursing service. Approximately 5,000 visits have been made to adults in the home.

Under "sanitation" a report was made relative to inspection of water supplies, sewage plants and resort sanitation. Due to the services of a full time veterinarian the department has been able to improve not only the local milk supply but that pasteurized outside the county as well. These efforts have been recognized but the state has gone on record as declaring Ulster county has one of the best milk supplies in New York. Westchester county no longer sends their inspectors here but accepts the local certification.

Resort sanitation is one of the big jobs of the department. In the county, the report states, the population, doubles during the summer months resulting in a large amount of sewage which must be disposed of and a great number of water supplies must be kept free of pollution. With the aid of eight part time inspectors the Department covered the 1,300 resorts in the county.

It is interesting to note that 15 per cent of all the resorts which are in New York state covered by the Sanitary Code, are located within our own boundaries," the report states.

All of the 106 county schools have been inspected at least twice during the year. Restaurants have been inspected and many nuisances have been investigated. The report calls attention to the $12,000 balance which will probably exist at the close of the year. This is due to the fact that several positions remained unfilled for a part of the year.

The report concludes: "We are submitting a total budget of $104,000 for the 1948 fiscal year. The chief reasons for the increase this year over last year are as follows:

1. The budgeting of the 17 public health nurse positions, which have existed in Ulster county since 1943. Last year, five of these positions were budgeted as low salaryed trainee positions because personnel were not available. In addition, public health nurse salaries have had to be raised to allow us to compete with other counties and school nurse positions within our own county. The five public health nurse vacancies now on our staff must be filled immediately.

2. An additional sanitary inspector position created to allow us to take care of numerous demands in our department of sanitation for nuisances, sanitation surveys, restaurant, school sanitation, etc. This position was created by the Board of Health this fall.

3. Two additional clerical positions created this summer and fall to fulfill the acute need in this department.

4. The unexpected rebudgeting of fixed equipment items due to supplies being available at present prices.

5. An increase in the Venereal Disease item to take care of the cases occurring in the county.

6. Normal salary increments.

7. An increase in maintenance items such as clinic supplies, office supplies, telephone, etc., which were deliberately under-budgeted last year because we expected unexpended balances in unfilled personal service items which could be rebudgeted.

8. The creation of 2 new positions for County District Health Officer to replace the local town health appropriations for the town of Lloyd, Plattkill, Marlborough, Shawangunk, Gardiner, Wawarsing, Denning and Ellenville Village.

9. The need for an item for janitor service since other county offices are now unable to supply us with such personnel.

10. The need for an increase in one of the maintenance items to cover the cost of the first annual report.

K. Conclusion
During these 10 months, the county has secured a great deal of new health service, while at the same time, former health programs have been expanded and rendered more efficient. The department has been able to organize for a superior health program because it is set up as a single administrative unit with centralized authority, avoidance of duplication, and mobility of personnel which permits a concerted and swift attack on these problems of greatest health importance. Our county has been congratulated repeatedly for the excellence of its health program and this honorable board should feel justly proud of the good work they are making possible.

Respectfully submitted,
George James, M. D., J. P. H. Commissioner of Health, Ulster County Board of Health.

Financial Report of the Health Department in summary follows:

County tax levy 1947 . . . $1,000.00
State aid, for 3 quarters . . . $7,618.94
Total receipts to October 31, 1947 . . . $8,618.94
Total expenditures to October 31 . . . $4,396.16
Deficit November 1, 1947 . . . $5,777.22
State Aid third quarter . . . $7,138.18

Balance . . . $1,358.96
In the 1948 budget submitted it is anticipated that there will be needed the sum of $128,475 for Personal services; $32,625 for Maintenance and Operation; and $2,000 for Fixed Expenditures, making a total budget of $164,000. Of that sum $107,000 will be the State Aid portion, county's share $57,000 less $6,000 anticipated balance, leaving a net of $51,000 to be raised by direct taxation.

The report was filed.
In his report Dr. George W. Weber, director of the Tuberculosis Hospital, calls attention to the state plan for the eradication of tuberculosis which makes it necessary in order to qualify for State Aid under the provision of the law, to meet certain qualifications and observe certain rules and regulations. Certain standards must be met with regard to building of clinics, staff, medical services, records, laboratory procedures, nursing, staff, out-patients and field clinics, occupational therapy, etc. The local hospital can easily be brought to meet this standard, the report states.

Death Rate Discussed
The report called attention to the relatively high death rate from tuberculosis in Ulster county and also the fact that the Kingston death rate is still higher than Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Binghamton, Rome and other cities. Dr. Weber calls attention to the shortage of nurses for required work in the hospital.

Particularly, the shortage of nurses was so critical at the beginning of the year that the utilization of the hospital had to be sharply reduced and some of the essential nursing care given to the patients had to be neglected. As a result, the morale of both the nursing staff and of the patients was at its lowest.

In February when Dr. Weber took over his duties there were only 40 patients in the hospital, eight of them non-county residents. For the six weeks since January 1, 1947 the average daily census had been of 44 patients or less than 80 per cent capacity. This low utilization was not due to lack of patients, but mainly to the shortage of nursing staff.

The nursing staff consisted of four registered nurses, four attendants and three nurse's aides, a total of only eleven individuals for a 24-hour coverage of a 56-bed hospital. This shortage was mainly due to the fact that salaries were too low to attract additional personnel and to the necessity, again due to scarcity, of applying the eight-hour shift on a 12-hour basis. The need for increasing the nurses' salaries had already been indicated by Dr. Seeley last year in his annual report for the year 1946.

During the spring a revision of some salaries together with a schedule providing for small yearly increments was affected. Also the straight eight-hour working day was gradually put into effect. As a result of these measures, we have been able to attract more nurses and nurse's aides so that now we have a competent staff, which, while still below the standards recommended by the State Department of Health, allows us to give adequate care to all patients, even when the census is at full capacity as has been for the past few months.

Examinations Held
Aided by field activities there were 3870 examinations made during the year, nearly double the number last year. This year 73 new cases of tuberculosis were found due to this extensive examination work, or over twice the 35 cases found last year.

In the following table are summarized the main activities of both the hospital and the outpatient department for the year.

Total number diagnostic clinic X-rays, 3,870.
3,870 examinations made on 3,133 patients.
Total number pneumothorax clinic X-rays, 103.
103 examinations made on 31 patients.

Total number field clinic X-rays, 518.
Total number contacts examined under 15 years of age, 271.
Total number contacts examined over 15 years of age, 920.
Total number of contacts examined, 1,191.

Total number of non-contacts examined under 15 years of age, 347.
Total number of non-contacts examined over 15 years of age, 2,332.
Total number admissions to the hospital, 79, including 26 readmissions.

Total number discharges, 67.
Total number deaths, 13.
Total number new cases discovered in clinic, 73.
Total number new cases reported from the hospital, 7.
Total number tuberculin tests, 89.

Total number patient days, 19,001.
During the year the balance and appropriation from the county amounted to $76,958.30 and state aid was $30,481.92. There was received $7,036.28 from patients for a total of $114,476.50 for the year. Total expenditures were $112,196.89. It is estimated that the cost of operation until December 31, 1947 will be $25,526 and a request for $25,000 was made. Half of this will be refunded to the county by the state.

In submitting the 1948 budget attention was called to the rapidly increasing cost of food, services and also the additional cost of additional personnel in the hospital in order to give adequate care to the patients. The estimated food cost will be 75 per cent higher, Dr. Weber stated. In making this statement he said his intention was to give the patients the best possible food, rather than poorer qualities. Also included in the budget for 1948 are several items of necessary maintenance and repair. Cost of X-ray films will be approximately doubled and there will be many other increased costs, his report indicated.

Estimated costs for 1948 are: Medical Staff, $12,800; Nursing Staff, $27,380; Administration, $5,162; Maintenance, $8,630; Cleaning, $5,076; Laundry, $2,424; Kitchen, $8,732; X-ray Department, $1,800; Occupational Therapy, $1,500. Total personal services, $73,504.

Report filed:
Fox Bounties Again
The matter of fox bounties was again before the Board. Dr. Clifford H. Hopenstedt, county veterinarian, sent a letter in which he stated foxes were one of the great bearers of rabies and he suggested that the county do everything to prevent spread of the disease. Dr. Hopenstedt said it has been called to his attention that some of the members of the Board opposed the bounty on foxes. This year he said the State Health Department reported 611 positive verified cases of rabies of which 276 were in cattle and 240 in foxes. In the month of October there were 89 cases, 63 being in cattle. Foxes he said were one of the carriers of rabies. Attention was called to the quarantine which now exists in counties adjacent to Ulster county and he said it was only a question of time when Ulster county would be in the same category. He suggested that anything which might be done to prevent the spread of the disease, such as control of foxes would aid.

A communication was received from County Attorney Frederick Stang suggesting that an action be brought for damage to his car which struck a construction on the Canal street bridge, be settled for $150. On motion this action was taken.

A contract was awarded The Freeman Publishing Company for printing the proceedings at $3.84 per page.

A resolution offered assessing and levying the sum of $51,000 on the county for Board of Health purposes for the ensuing year, Over.

Resolutions of the previous session were called up and adopted. Supervisors bills must be in by Wednesday evening.

Inspection of the County Home on December 4.

The Committee on Appropriations will meet at 7 o'clock December 3 and the board adjourned to Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

and downtown business sections. These are left until 11 p. m. he said, because before that time traffic is too heavy to permit plowing.

After 11 p. m. on the day of a snowstorm, the Walter Reed plow, taking up Broadway in echelon, is taking the center and pushing the snow into the path of another truck following behind and slightly to the right, and so on until the snow is pushed to the side of the road, Steuding said.

About the same time, the city's snowplows are sent out to remove the piles of snow from the business districts, hospital areas, churches, and from funeral homes. There is one Sno-G loader, which can remove snow and load a 2 1/2 ton truck in about 30 seconds, a new conveyor-type loader which loads a truck in about one minute, and the older conveyor-type which takes somewhat longer, Steuding said.

All Trucks Used
For removing the snow, all city-owned trucks are used, Steuding reported. He said his department does not rent trucks from private sources for this purpose. The snow is dumped at Block Park on Abel street, on the Athletic Field, or on the stadium grounds.

All trucks in service except ash-removal trucks are equipped with plow frames, including the Mack flusher. The plows are laid out in a line at the yard at the city barn, and can be attached within five minutes, Steuding said. Chains have been placed on the wheels of all trucks which are not needed for other work before the snow falls.

In the event of an extremely heavy snowstorm, the city has a caterpillar tractor equipped with a heavy duty plow capable of cutting a path 24 feet in width. This tractor is very slow, moving at about 10 miles an hour, "but nothing can stop it," Steuding said.

List Is Posted
Posted conspicuously in the office at the B.P.W. barn is a list of all drivers and alternates, with their telephone numbers and addresses, so that a force can be called out in minimum time. Alternate drivers are necessary in case of a continuous storm, of long duration, Steuding said, since a man's eyes become tired after about 18 hours of operating a plow behind the powerful headlights, which glare against the white snow.

Sand for the sanding operations is kept in heated bins at the city barn which hold 250 tons. The sand is kept heated so that it will flow readily into the trucks. The bins are kept full with sand taken from Hutton's Brick Yard, which,

Scientists May Be Preparing New Atomic Power Weapons

Work at Tiny Atoll of Eniwetok Becomes Highly Secret Project

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—Projected atomic tests behind a curtain of absolute secrecy in the remote Pacific suggested today that American scientists may be preparing new weapons based on the same terrible power as the atom bomb.

A terse announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed that the armed forces are making tiny Eniwetok atoll—1,500 miles from the nearest large land mass—into a closed-off proving grounds for research on "new fundamental data."

What goes on there, the commission said, is expected to result in advances in "peaceful as well as in military applications of atomic energy."

Asked whether a reference to $40,000,000 from departmental recommendations.

When a reporter observed that this "probably would keep the budget under $800,000,000," Dewey replied: "I don't know."

The governor continued his silence on possible higher taxes to meet the record budget demands. Authoritative sources have said no tax increases are contemplated beyond those tied to the $400,000,000 veterans' bonus. A 20 per cent jump over the 1947 income tax and a one-cent rise in the cigarette tax.

Dewey predicted two weeks ago that the budget for the fiscal year beginning next April 1 would exceed the current record outlay of $887,200,000.

He already has announced proposed increases over this year's appropriations of approximately $90,000,000, exclusive of the employees' pay raise program.

In addition to these, Dewey said departmental requests "are up very substantially."

Normally, the budget office reduces departmental requests after consultation with the governor, but Dewey said the increase in funds asked for next year was "so sharp that it is almost afraid there might be some injustice if the reductions all were made in the executive department."

Dewey noted that tomorrow's meeting would be the first since conference with him.

He described the task of cutting requests as "gargantuan" and said he was asking department heads "themselves to take the responsibility for submitting reduced budgets."

All-Night Liquor Permits To Be Given for New Year's
John F. O'Connell, chairman of the New York State Liquor Authority, 1775 Broadway, New York, announced today that the Liquor Authority will approve the issuance of all-night permits extending the hours during which alcoholic beverages may be sold by restaurant, hotel, club and night club licensees on New Year's eve.

Applications may be obtained at the zone offices of the Authority. A fee of $10 will be charged for each permit. State Liquor Authority offices are as follows: Zone 1, New York 1775 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y.; Zone 2, Albany, 39 Columbia street, Albany 1, N. Y.; Zone 3, Buffalo, Ellicott Square Building, 295 Main street, Buffalo 3, N. Y.

Steuding said, is supplied to the city free of charge.

Will Meet Saturday
A meeting of all drivers and alternates and mechanics has been called by the superintendent for 7 a. m. on Saturday. At that time, Steuding will talk for about one-half hour on snow-removal processes, after which the men will be given a chance to attach the plows and put chains on their trucks, in order to see that they are all in proper adjustment. Then the plows will be removed, and the drivers will run through a "dry plowing" operation over their routes, to become familiar with location of various obstructions.

Arrangements have been made to receive weather reports from the Albany Airport and Stewart Field in Newburgh, Steuding said. At the first sign of snow, he will call both stations, so that by the time one inch of snow has fallen he will know whether or not it will be necessary to start calling the drivers.

For the entire plowing operation for the city will take from eight to 10 hours, depending upon the severity of the storm, Steuding said.

Flying Boxcar—Load It Now, Fly It Later

Here is an artist's conception of a new design for a flying boxcar with a detachable fuselage airplane to speed and facilitate handling of airborne cargo. The pod, or fuselage, could be loaded long in advance of flight and attached to the plane before takeoff. The drawing above shows a pod being drawn away shortly after landing, while two other pods in background are being loaded for future flight. Now under consideration by the Air Materiel Command at Wright Field, Ohio, the design was drafted by the Fairchild Aircraft Division, Hagerstown, Md.

Woman Is Hurt When Hit by Train

Yonkers Resident Fell or Jumped to Tracks,
Police Say

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—A woman who gave her name as Catherine Henneberry, 30, of Yonkers, was injured seriously early today when she was struck by a southbound I.R.T. express as it entered the West 33rd street-Seventh avenue station, police reported.

Police said that Motorman William Hayden reported the woman fell or jumped to the tracks as he entered the station. Four cars of the train passed over her body, which lay in the trough between the rails.

She was removed from the tracks after a 14-minute delay in express service, and found to be suffering from an amputation of the left foot, shock, and cuts and bruises of the body. She was treated at St. Vincent's Hospital, where her condition was listed as serious.

The accident victim, who was in a dazed condition from her injuries, was unable to remember her own address, but asked police to notify Gerald Henneberry of 26 Highland avenue, Yonkers, who she said was her brother.

Woman Is Detained.
